Excise Commrs letter about amending Cond 11 of Bonded Depot licence

The present Condition is sufficiently comprehensive in my humble opinion. The Licensee cannot keep any liquor not supplied by Govt Contractor; as he cannot offer, sell or issue what he does not keep ~~for~~ (with any practical effect) the addition of these words is unnecessary "Country" also is unnecessary, as the Govt Contractor, I believe, only supplies such liquor.

"Contractor" in the present Passage I believe can mean only transporting Contractor.

Unless an actual case of difficulty has arisen, I think it inexpedient that we should be continually tinkering after the rules, aiming at an impossible perfection. The matter is submitted for orders.

Jaggery arrack also is manufactured by the Contractors & issued to Cashewnut farmers & Separate Shop keepers. The price & mode of sale of this liquor somewhat differs from Molasses arrack. Some additions had therefore to be made in the licences A & D in order to facilitate the sale of Jaggery Arrack. These addns seem to have been made by the Excise Comsr himself without ref. to Govt. SERIAL No. 3 10th March 1903.

My dear Sir,

Your D.O. of the 4th instant.

The Bowringpet Inspector on testing the arrack in a retail shop, found its strength to be 22·4° U.P. He then tested the contents of the "sample bottle" and found the same to be 22·1° U.P. The mutsaddy of the Depot who issued the liquor, explains that he had the drippings from the tap of the cask on stand, collected in a jar, which he issued to ~~the~~ shop; and that the drippings must have become weak owing to ~~the~~ evaporation. The drippings no doubt become weak through evopora-tion; and such weak liquor must necessarily remain in -- Mutsaddy's possession in the Depot until it is adjusted to the admissible strength by the Excise Inspector concerned, under a departmental order. The Mutsaddy was irregular in having issued the weak liquor to the shop, according to his own admission. But as the license Condition in question, is defect-ive, he cannot be punished for it; and therefore it has to be amended as per draft Notification submitted with this Office letter No.4615/263, dated 10th ultimo. But as there are several more amendments to be made in the Rules, as per draft sale Notifications submitted with my letter No. 5449/349, dated 7th instant, the draft Notification referred to in your letter under reply, may be considered with the consolidated draft Notification which will be submitted, embodying all amendments, as soon as the sale Notifications are approved by Government.

Sir,

In reply to your docket No. 459 / Excise, dated 31st March 1903 I have the honor to submit herewith a consolidated draft notification embodying certain amendments to the Arrack Rules.

2. The amendments referred to in clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4) of the accompanying draft notification, are in consequence of those made in the 'Sale

Notifications for the ensuing year and approved in Government Proceedings No. 430-40, dated 18th March 1903.

3. Those in clause (5) are made for the reasons explained in my Demi Official letter, dated 10th March 1903. For ready reference they are repeated here. The Bowringpet Range Inspector on testing the arrack in a retail shop, found its strength to be 22.4° U. P. The Mustaddy of the depot who issued the liquor explained that he had the drippings from the tap of the cask on stand, collected in a jar, which he issued to the shop; and that the drippings must have become weak owing to evaporation. The drippings no doubt become weak through evaporation evaporation; and such weak liquor must necessarily remain in Muttaddy's possession in the depôt until it is adjusted to the admissible strength by the Excise official concerned, under a departmental order. The Muttaddy was irregular in having issued the weak liquor to the shops, according to his own admission. But as the license condition 11 is defective, he cannot be punished for it; and therefore it has to be amended as now proposed.
